MURKWOOD- Mood Teaser, First Stills & Casting

Here is a trailer for a interesting looking film called MURKWOOD. The film deals with three kidnappers that kill their hostage, a child, and now have to deal with the unseen forces in the dark woods where they were waiting for their ransom money. The film is a psychological horror thriller and is set in a dingy looking forest that looks like it will have some creepy atmosphere.

You can check out the mood trailer, photos and press release that includes the synopsis of the film for MURKWOOD after the jump.

Press release:

A first teaser and first stills have just been released for psychological horror thriller "Murkwood".

Branko Tomovic ("Entity", "The Bourne Ultimatum", "Whitechapel") has been cast in the main part of Lucian Thaler. Ralph Ineson ("Game of Thrones", "Harry Potter") is in talks for the part of Pete Buck.

Alex Boutellier is directing from his own script, with Remo Pini producing. Also on board is Iron Sky's Tero Kaukomaa as advisor.

Synopsis:

Career criminals Peter Buck, Eddie Coyne and Lucien Thaler kidnap the son of a prominent British politician from a Swiss boarding school. Hiding out in the Alps, the men wait for the ransom money. But when tragedy strikes, they end up trapped in a dark wood – held hostage by unseen forces. Hunted and desperate, the kidnappers realize that the worst evil does not lurk in the shadows of the night but in the darkness of their souls. And it is about to be unleashed...

Murkwood evokes the moody visuals of David Lynch's "Twin Peaks" and combines them with the visceral scares of an 'eco-horror' movie like "Long Weekend"
